Student Placement Process: At the end of each year, your students' current grade level teachers collaborate in a student placement process for the upcoming school year. They work to balance gender, academic levels, behavior and intervention needs (ESL, SpEd, etc.) in each new classroom. Some families move in and out, and that sometimes alters the carefully thought-out balances, but we feel this process does help to ensure successful classroom dynamics. The principal oversees this process and ultimately assigns the students and teachers for the upcoming year.

If your child has particular needs that should be considered during this placement process, please indicate your suggestions below.
